

Supply Chain Education Excellence Awards 2010

Are you a supply chain education achiever?

Do you know anyone who deserves to be recognised for their efforts to develop our profession's people capabilities?

If so, we want you, or your nominations, for the 2010 Supply Chain Education Excellence Awards.

This prestigious annual event - now in its 4th successful year - is aimed at recognising and rewarding excellence in supply chain management education and raising awareness of individuals, organisations and educators who are going the extra mile to address the skills deficit in the supply chain and operations management profession.

SAPICS will once again co-host the stylish awards function, which takes place March 11th at The Venue, Melrose Arch, and will include a lavish dinner to honour our nominees and winners.

Nominations are sought in a number of categories, and will be adjudicated based on performance, sustainability, success and innovation.

Categories (All nominations will be assessed by an independent panel of judges)

Please indicate your selected category for nomination:
